

Home & Garden Show Exhibitor References

The businesses below represent some of the most active Home Show exhibitors who have participated in most, if not all of the home improvement shows and expos in the Chicago area over many years. They have chosen us as their #1 investment in the Home Show category ... and for very good reason. We invite you to join those who know best where to invest when it comes to home improvement events.

When it comes to making the most educated decision for your marketing plan, reliable information is of the utmost importance. Of course, we are here to tell you exactly why we firmly believe that our events are the best investment you can find for your business, but you don't simply have to take our word for it.
